

IRSC 2016

Transnational Security Issues in the Contemporary World

GUEST EVENTS:

1. Keynote Address: “Transnational Security Issues in the Contemporary World.”
2. Stalwart’s Debate: “Has the War on Terror turned out to be a War for Terror?”
3. Panel Discussion: “Do First World Countries Have a Moral Obligation to Accept Refugees?”

STUDENT EVENTS:

4. Debate: “Regulation of the Internet is a Necessary Evil”
 5. Quiz: World Politics
 6. Power Point Presentation: “Highway to Hell: The Notorious Corridors of Drug Trafficking”
 7. Model Committee: UNGA DISEC. Agenda: “Transnational Security Issues in the Contemporary World”
 8. Creative Writing: Topic to be given on spot
 9. Interest Groups’ Simulation: “Cross-border Human Trafficking- The New Slave Trade?”
-

EVENT DETAILS

QUIZ

- Written prelims having 20 questions
- Each team shall have 3 participants
- Top 6/8 teams qualify for the finals
- Some of the prelim questions are star marked and would be used to resolve a tie

DEBATE

- Teams of two, wherein one participant will speak FOR the motion and the other AGAINST the motion
- Total time per speaker is 3+2 minutes

PAPER PRESENTATION

- Mode of presentation: PowerPoint Presentation
- Students must carry their own laptops and pen-drives in case they use a medium for presentation other than MS-Office Powerpoint
- Maximum number of participants: 3
- Time: 5+2 minutes

CREATIVE WRITING

- Topic will be given on spot
- No limitation on the number of students participating from each college/university
- Carry your own writing materials
- Paper will be provided
- Time: 60 minutes

INTEREST GROUPS' SIMULATION

- Every college will be participating as one hypothetical interest group, each consisting of 3 students (cross college teams allowed), who will be responsible for coming up with a hypothetical name, insignia, flag, slogan and propaganda for their team
 - Each of these hypothetical groups will have a stand on the issue, which will be different from another, as per allotment
 - Each of these groups will try to sway a panel of selected judges present at the venue with their take on the topic provided, such as what changes they want to see being made to the existing order of things, how they intend to implement it, etc.
 - Total time allotted per team would be $8+2=10$ minutes
 - Teams would be judged on the basis of their research, presentation as well as creativity
 - Saying anything controversial may lead to immediate disqualification
-